

The TU/e does not recommend a start in the second semester for Master students who would like to follow courses. Therefore, stays of Master students should concern individual research projects/internships. This kind of stays can be arranged with more flexibility than stays for courses when it comes to starting dates too.

In general, the TU/e departments prefer stays of six months. The availability of individual research projects/internships varies from department/group and depends on the supervisor/supervision available. All content related matters will have to be discussed before arrival with the supervisors concerned. Information on the research areas can be found on <http://www.tue.nl/en/departments>. Master students wishing to do this kind of projects/internships should indicate:

- the department and the exact research area of their preference
- the exact period of stay.

The Department of Technology Management and the Department of Mathematics and Computing Science do NOT offer possibilities for individual research projects/internships. All students, Master students and Postdoctoral students, should contact the institution contact person directly. Postdoctoral students should mention the department they would like to stay at, including the exact research area of their preference, and the possible period of stay too. I will forward the applications to the departmental coordinators/contact persons.
